GRADES 3-12

Drive Deeper Learning in Social Studies with This Award-Winning Digital Solution.

I love using Actively Learn to help students deconstruct complex texts like primary sources. Embedded scaffolds and coaching help [them] stop and think.”

Lesley Burdine,
U.S. History Teacher

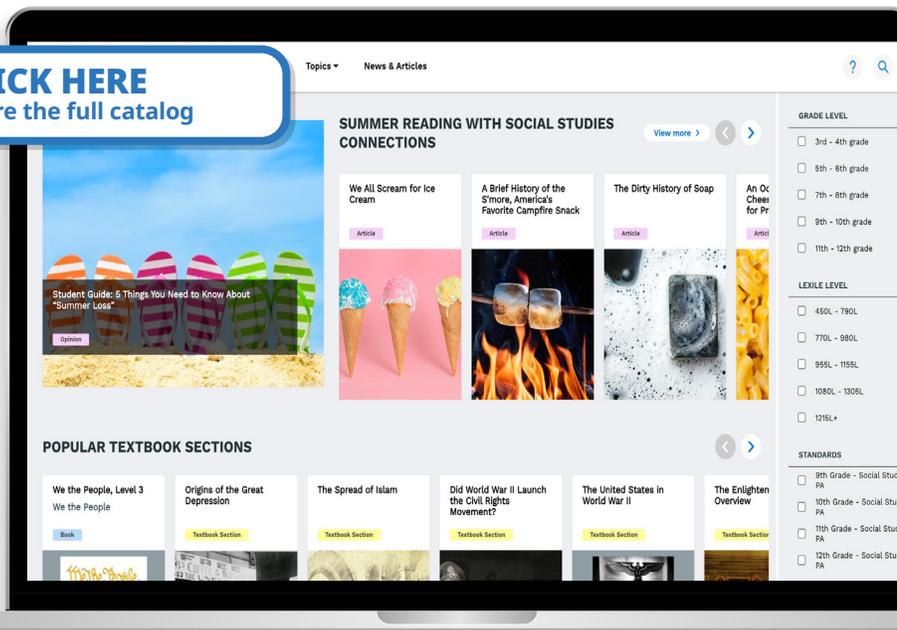

Actively Learn video assignments bring social studies to life, and include embedded questions to monitor comprehension as students watch.

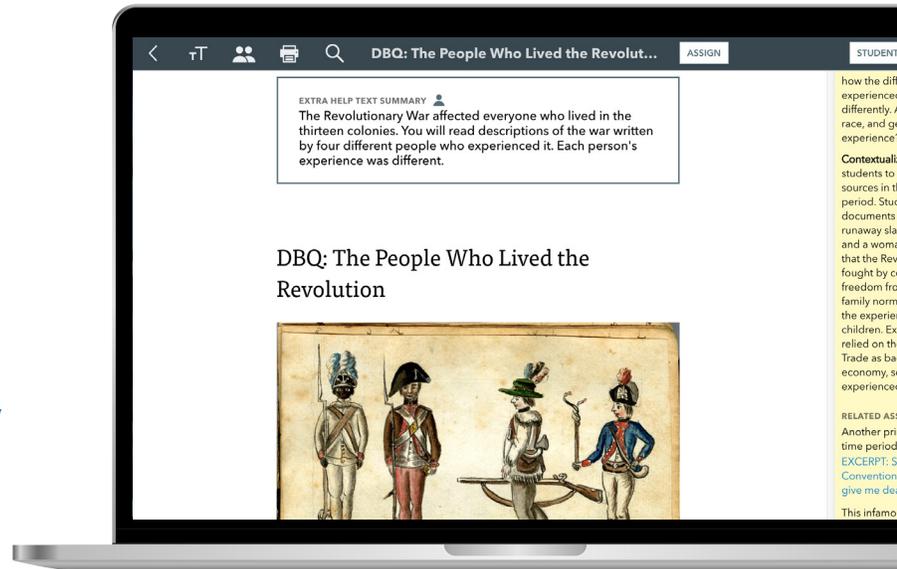

Actively Learn Social Studies offers a full suite of resources to cover core topics in social studies, including US History, Ancient World History, and Modern World History. Assignments include embedded instruction and reading supports for students that facilitate deeper learning and bring history to life.

- Lessons and assessments that support teaching within the C3 Framework
- Compelling questions that prompt discussion embedded throughout all assignments
- Rich readings that engage students in the dynamic time periods and topics of the social sciences
- Primary sources, simulations, DBQs, textbook sections, news articles, and videos that include embedded questions, notes, and media to support student comprehension and deeper thinking
